DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 17, 21-28, 32-34, 41-44, 46-50, 52-53 and 55-56 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 7-18 of U.S. Patent No. 5736131. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the patent are to specific SEQ ID NOs, whereas the instant claims are broader in scope. With respect to instant claim s41-44 and 48, SEQ ID NO:5 of the patent encodes a CryIE/CryIC hybrid toxin, and SEQ ID NO:7 of the patent encodes a CryIA/CryIC hybrid toxin (according to instant claim 17, the CryIC portion is the carboxy terminal region of a first Cry protein). A species renders a genus obvious.

Claims 45, 51, 54 and 57 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
